To Whom It May Concern:

It is my pleasure to provide a recommendation for Greg Currie and his company Technology in Education, Inc. We, in Peninsula School District, have worked with Technology in Education and Greg over the last five years I have been the Director of Technology. Over these years, Greg has been the consummate professional in all aspect of our business relationship. Most importantly, Greg often has gone beyond all of our expectations in terms of customer service and support.

Our most recent project is a great example of Greg's approach. We were looking for replacements for our aging document cameras across the district. As soon as Greg was involved, he made sure all of our questions were answered, provided us with access to the newest technologies he could provide and we were extremely happy with the pricing and warranties offered. After comparing products from several vendors, Technology and Education, Inc. was selected to provide this technology over the next school year because of the overall quality of the products, the aggressive pricing and a long history of excellent customer support.

Beyond those expected services, Greg always goes a few steps further to try and make sure we are happy customers. He always stands behind his products makes himself readily available to assist if we have any problems, issues or concerns. Greg sets a high bar for our overall satisfaction. He has become part of our team!

In closing, I give Greg Currie and Technology in Education my highest recommendation.

Sincerely,

JB Fitzpatrick
